

Quality, Health, Safety & Environmental Policy

OUR COMMITMENT

Rayden Engineering Ltd is fully committed to providing a Quality Service to all customers.

The company will provide a safe and healthy workplace for its employees and others affected by its activities. There will be statutory compliance regarding matters related to Health, Safety and Environment.

We are committed to the continual improvement and enhancement of the quality, health, safety, and environmental performance through the management systems. BS EN ISO 9001, BS EN ISO 14001 & ISO45001.

We are committed to consulting our employees on health & safety matters, managing all risks arising from our activities, providing safe plant and equipment that is regularly maintained and inspected in accordance with relevant legislation.

Our commitment to our employees is to encourage awareness of occupational health matters. We will engage and provide such health surveillance as is required, with regard to the undertakings of the company.

The company is committed to promoting the environment and the prevention of pollution, by including environmental matters as an integral part of its business strategy, waste will be monitored and disposed of in accordance with legislation, raw materials and energy resources will be conserved. Pollution prevention methods will be implemented, and the environmental impact will be minimised.

The Company will ensure that adequate and competent resources are available for all activities carried out and continual personal development is to be encouraged.

Business Objectives will be developed and regularly monitored. Accident prevention will be afforded a high priority when setting Objectives within the Company.

When using subcontractors to carry out specialised activities we will expect them to work in accordance with our Quality, Safety and Environmental policies.

The Company expects all employees to fully understand and comply with the management systems that are in place, to comply with legislation and regulations and also encourage input when looking to improve the Company performance.

The Company will constantly monitor and review its performance and policies with respect to Quality, Safety and Environmental operations with a view to continuous improvement wherever practicable.

Signed

Designation: Managing Director

Date: January 2025

Next Review Date: January 2026